Disclaimer

Persons or organisations accessing information on the websites of the FXdirekt Bank AG (incorporated) ("FXdirekt Bank" website), agree to the following terms and conditions. Subsidiary agreements for individual services or alternatively products of the FXdirekt Bank AG (incorporated) ("FXdirekt Bank"), are required in writing and stand alongside these terms and conditions. However, in case of a discrepancy, written subsidiary agreements take precedence.

Offer of Information

Information published on the FXdirekt Bank website constitutes neither a recommendation nor an offer or invitation to acquire or sell investment instruments, to action transactions or to conclude any legal transactions. Information published and only opinions expressed are made available by the FXdirekt Bank for personal use and information purposes only. They are subject to change without notice. The FXdirekt Bank does not guarantee (neither explicitly nor tacitly) the accuracy, completeness and validity of the information and opinions published on the FXdirekt Bank website. In particular, the FXdirekt Bank is not liable to remove obsolete information from the FXdirekt Bank website, or expressly identify obsolete information as such. To a certain extent, the information on our website is made available by third parties. We, or any third parties, assume no liability for the accuracy and/or completeness and/or timeliness of the respective information. The information contained on the FXdirekt Bank website represents neither a decision-making aid for any advice sought on economic legal, fiscal or other matters, nor may investment or other decisions be reached, based solely on this information. Instead, consultation with a qualified expert is always recommended.

Performance

The future performance of invested capital cannot be deduced from the historical performance development (past reflection) presented. In other words, the invested capital can either increase or decrease. The FXdirekt Bank cannot guarantee the maintaining of the value (or the appreciation in value) of the invested capital.

Liability Limitations

The FXdirekt Bank unreservedly excludes all liability for losses, alternatively, for damages of any nature (- whether they are direct, indirect or consequential damages) arising from the use of or access to, the FXdirekt Bank website, or from links to third party websites. Furthermore, the FXdirekt Bank rejects all liability for the manipulation of the internet user's computer systems by unauthorised persons. The FXdirekt Bank expressly points out the dangers of viruses and the possibility of targeted attacks by hackers. For the purpose of combatting viruses, the use of current browser versions, as well as the installation of anti-virus software which updates on an ongoing basis, is recommended. Opening emails from an unknown source, as well as unknown attachments should be strictly abstained from.

Linked Websites (so-called links)

Certain links on the FXdirekt Bank website lead to websites of third parties. These are completely outside of the FXdirekt Bank's influence. For this reason, the FXdirekt Bank does not assume responsibility for the accuracy, completeness and legitimacy of the contents thereof. Neither does the FXdirekt Bank assume responsibility for any offers and services contained therein.
